With an abundance of materials, designs and finishes to choose from you will be spoilt for choice.

Bespoke is at the centre of all we do, and with so much flexibility comes the chance for you to get creative. Make an impact with a 2 storey feature screen, retain authenticity by mimicking original features or open up unusable space with a statement porthole window. Non-standard is our standard and we are dedicated to making your home unique.
Inspired by period homes, with the benefits of modern manufacturing.
Beachwood House

Luxury meets functionality in this idyllic Surrey new build.

From inception the key requirement for this particular project was to supply windows that create the appearance of an 18th century exterior whilst benefiting from the enhanced performance of a modern timber window. With this in mind PDS supplied an array of sympathetically designed quality products.

Whilst the new build has many distinguishing features, one element that was really valued by prospective buyers was the elegant refinement throughout. Harmonisation across the finish of each and every window and door was thought to be a key component in achieving this.

Ensuring the paint and furnishings used on your products are perfectly harmonised can be significantly undervalued by some suppliers, however PDS acknowledge the importance of this and realise it is essential to creating that immaculate finish giving your home a truly timeless feel.

As a result of manufacturing all of our products from one site in the UK, we are able to maintain a significant level of control over the finish of our products.

English Country

A modern interpretation of authentic country features.
CASE STUDY

Old Manor

Elegantly restored manor house converted into luxury apartments.

Dating back to the late 18th century the recently converted manor house is naturally rich in character and authenticity. This historical appeal was considered a key attribute to the property and from inception was approached with great sensitivity.

Once work commenced the derelict manor was quickly transformed. The beautiful stone exterior was maintained, the surrounding grounds were given a new lease of life and a beautiful set of bespoke windows and gothic doorsets were installed throughout. Finished in an oak stain and furnished in Black Iron ironmongery, the joinery offers a distinctive feel of luxury whilst not distracting from the traditional feel of the building.

With such complex design requirements and restoration at the heart of the project the developer was confident in their decision to choose timber. PDS supplied a range of Timber Mortice and Tenon Doorsets and Casement Windows separated by mullions for added charm.

“Seeing the product develop from being a raw material to a fully finished, functional product is very satisfying.”

English Country

A nod back to a more nostalgic era, with modern interpretations of original features.

Natural materials and exposed treated woodworks are coupled with rustic green hues and softer blush tones for a classic country feel.

GET THE ENGLISH COUNTRY LOOK

We would recommend styling the interior of this type of property with soft textured cushions and throws to create warmth. Showcase exposed beams and original fireplaces whilst using classic combinations of green and soft pinks in accessories and wall coverings.

See our 2017/2018 colour palette on page 39.
Minimalistic design is combined with heavy glazing for a contemporary feel.
CASE STUDY

Kew Gardens

Stunning bungalow set within Kew Gardens undergoes tasteful renovation.

Extensive work goes into modernising the 3 bedroom Grade I listed home and diffusing the barrier between the homes carefully selected interior finishes and the picturesque greenery that surrounds the delightful property.

PDS has had ample experience renovating conservation properties and listed buildings, so were well equipped to accompany the contractor in taking on the project.

Timber was selected over alternative manufacturing materials due to its sympathetic qualities and the functional benefits it can offer in terms of durability, sustainability and design flexibility.

Whilst preserving and enhancing the property was a key decider as to what windows and doors were specified, it was also of high importance that the home retain as much natural light as possible in order to generate a bright and airy feel across the open plan space.

The products were finished to an exquisite standard and look perfectly in place in this well-appointed home.

“...The attention to detail we offer takes a nice home and makes it into a beautiful home.”

Urban

With a growing need to embrace a more simple life we are going back to basics. Natural materials are used in unfamiliar ways to create beauty and interest. Concrete, copper, glass, rustic wood and steel form the building blocks of this trend, inspired by a moody and enticing colour palette of powerful grey tones.

GET THE URBAN LOOK

We would recommend styling the interior of this type of property with rustic wood and metal barstools, copper pans and chunky chopping boards. Exposed brick features should be complemented with walls of darker tones to create a warm yet raw urban space.

Express yourself with colour

Timber joinery has many fantastic attributes however one beyond compare is the versatility available across the style and finish of our products. Selecting your perfect shade can be an overwhelming task, so to ease the process, we have isolated 24 of our most popular and on-trend hues to make up our top picks palette for 2017/2018.

Set your heart on a specific shade? Not to worry, we can mix paint to any RAL colour so that your perfect finish remains firmly within reach.

All colours have been matched as closely as possible and are for guidance only.
Selecting your ironmongery is as big a decision as any when sourcing your new timber doors and windows and therefore should be done with great consideration. The style you pick has a huge impact on the look and feel of a project and getting it right is imperative to achieving the exact finish you’ve been dreaming of.
